

The Company DARUMI, Sociedade Agrícola e Turística, Lda has its headquarters in the city of Oporto and it is the producer of the wines Quinta das Pirâmides.

The farm Quinta das Pirâmides exists since the XVIII century. Originally named Quinta do Barreiro, it became known later in 1952 for the current name having winemaking as its main activity – vinho verde winemaking.

With a wide agroforestry area, the farm is formed by several granite buildings, typical from Minho region, by a forest area occupied by chestnut trees, eucalyptus, pine trees and portuguese oaks and by a land of excellence for the Vinho Verde production.

The farm is located in a farm zone, in the village of Telhado, Vila Nova de Fa-malicão. This county is strategically located among the cities of Braga, Guimarães and Oporto, cities of World Heritage.

Vinhos Verdes Quinta das Pirâmides are therefore produced in the North of Portugal, the region of excellence for vinhos verdes, in well drained soils, rich in organic material and with an excellent solar exposure where we can find wine varieties like Alvarinho, Loureiro e Trajadura.

Quinta das Pirâmides Alvarinho - Special harvest 2013

The Brand

The brand Quinta das Pirâmides is due to the fact that DARUMI's wines are produced in the soil of this farm. Quinta das Pirâmides, in the north of Portugal, exists since the XVIII century. It was originally named Quinta do Barreiro, and it is composed by several granite houses, very typical in the Minho region and by fields of excellence for the production of vinho verde.

The farm produces the grape varieties Alvarinho, Loureiro e Trajadura.

The single variety Alvarinho is born in 2013, using the most renowned grape variety of the region. Selected for the special attributes it carries, Alvarinho stands out with its aromatic intensity and fruity character with mineral notes. It completes the Quinta das Pirâmides range in the most perfect way.
